In today's world the most annoying and dangerous problem is the corona-virus. Every single country in the world is struggling from this problem and it's not a surprise nowadays after almost a year of pandemic life experience.

Covid-19 is a very very fast spreading around the world virus, and the most dangerous thing about it is how easily you can be infected. Russia government and the Russia wasn't something special in that case and Covid-19 is a real treat for the nation. Government should've react fast and it did. The country began self-isolation. Most of the workers begin doing their job from the distance - at home, in their rooms. Schools, colleges and universities also begin their lessons on the distance. If you are in the street, you should wear a mask. If you're not doing it, not a single shop can sell you something because of a special treatment. Also we should not forget about how fast Russia invented first vaccine.

All of this means that Russia government takes this problem seriously and doesn't let this massive infection spread and grow even more.
